THE first grain elevators of America were built in Chicago eleven years ago.

SOUTHERN RUSSIA is the chief source of the salt supply to the other governments of the empire

THE farm animals of Great Britain represent about one half the total value of those of the United States

THE moa, or dinorsis, was a huge bird of New Zealand, the largest specimens being three times the size of an ostrich.

THE mountains round Great Salt Lake bear evidences of the existence at some early period of a much larger lake in the same locality.

THE island of Ceylon and the kingdoms of Pegu and Burmah contain almost the only ruby and sapphire mines of the world.

JAMES WATT congratulated himself that one of his steam cylinders only lacked three-eighths of an inch of being truly cylindrical.

THE blood of the negro and Esquimaux is of the same temperature, although the external atmosphere in which they live may vary by 80°

RUINS of houses, fortifications and dishes made by a prehistoric people have been found in Southwestern Colorado and Southeastern Utah.

A NEW use has been made of dynamite in the slaughter house A thimbleful placed on the forhead of an animal and exploded causes instant death.

CELERY is the cultivated variety of the English weed smallage. It was introduced into England about the time of the Reformation, by some Italians, who gave it the Italian name, cellery

THE harpy eagle of Southern Mexico has plumage so elastic and compact that buckshot, striking on the wings or breast of the bird, at a certain angle, glance off or fail to penetrate vital parts

AMONG the natives of Senegambia pulmonary affections are unknown, yet a year spent in the over crowded man-pens of the slave trader is sufficient to develop consumption in its most virulent form.

SEVERAL years ago the bleaching powder made in the world was 55,000 tons per annum, whereas it is now over 150,000 tons. By this increase every sheet of white paper and every yard of calico made in the world have been cheapened.

A COLOSSAL æolian harp was made in Milan in 1786, by the Abbe Gattoni. He stretched seven strong iron wires from the top of a tower, sixty feet high, to a house near by This giant harp was heard, in a high wind, at a distance of several miles

WHEN Henry IV, while Prince of Navarre was playing dice a few days before the massacre of St Bartholomew, the party broke up in alarm at thinking they saw on the dice spots of blood The phenomenon is now explained scientifically, not as an omen, but resulting from the simultaneous contrast of colors

THE story of Cinderella has its origin, probably, in an old Egyptian legend, in which an eagle steals the shoe of a fair lady, while she is bathing in the river, and carries it to the king. He, admiring the shape, and seeing a fate in the manner of its being brought to him, summons the lady and marries her, as in our modern story.

THE much abused dragon flies are perfectly harmless to human beings, they neither bite nor sting, but destroy vast quantities of mosquitoes, flies and other insects They can be brought into the house to catch flies and mosquitoes, which duty they perform if unmolested. While in the larvæ state they perform the same good work.

A YOUNG, rich, and pretty widow in London, with plenty of animal spirits, and in want of some innocent amusement, hit on the original plan of inscribing her name in the books of a matrimonial agency as a wealthy but blind candidate for matrimony The number of suitors was legion, and the young widow amused herself to her heart's content. Some came in shabby clothes, some stretched themselves at full length on the sofa and made themselves quite at home, but spoke in tones of the deepest affection. The charming widow was, however, soon obliged to cut the joke short, for one of her suitors, after annexing a pair of candle sticks introduced a bunch of long tapers into her pocket and abstracted her purse

INDIANS smoke the pipe of peace, while white men smoke the piece of a pipe

Defending the Sex.

Clara Belle, in her last letter to the Cincinnati Enquirer, says "there seems to be a vast difference, to men's eyes, between the tweedle dee of an outer dress and the tweedle-dum of underclothing. I can't understand why, but it is so. Nine men out of ten will rush wildly to a window to see a woman in flowing white across the way and turn away disappointed when they find that the snowy garment is a wrapper instead of a chemise."

We rally to the defense of our sex. We scorn Clara Belle or anyone who believes the above statement

An equally false and wicked notion prevails relative to bald-headed men who go to the ballet and sit next to the musicians, within seven feet of the stage. The cruel charge that bald-headed men sit on the front row of seats at this class of literary exercises from any wrong motive, has done an incalculable amount of harm. It has hurt our own feelings many times and caused the ready tear to unbidden start. It has cast a gloom over our whole lives and embittered the cup of our joy many times.

Bald-headed men are dealt with unjustly in this matter So far as we are concerned we are free to say that we sit on the front row so that we can hear the soft low notes of the bass viol We are madly, passionately fond of the musical throbs of the large fiddle, and shall we be hooted and jeered on the public streets for this cause? Shall we be named mockingly by the mob because we yearn for the glad snort of the bass tuba and the mellow notes of the triangle? We hope not

Clara Belle is a little too harsh and too anterior. She writes sarcastically and does not regard the feelings of those she thus cruelly stabs.

We should never speak disrespectfully of the bald-headed We do not know how soon we may be bald-headed ourselves

There is a case in history somewhere, although we have not the leisure at present to turn to it, where some hoodlums had a whole menagerie turned loose on them for speaking lightly of a bald-headed gentleman. We should learn from this never to attack the man who parts his hair with a towel, for in an unguarded moment he may climb us with a lawn mower and knock us beyond the purple hills.—Nye's Boomerang.

The Beggars' Opera.

Dr. Swift had been observing once to Mr. Gay what an odd, pretty sort of thing a Newgate pastoral might make Gay was inclined to try at such a thing for some time, but afterwards thought it would be better to write a comedy on the same plan This was what gave rise to the "Beggars' Opera" He began on it, and when first he mentioned it to Swift, the Doctor did not quite like the project As he carried it on he showed what he wrote to both of us, and we now and then gave a correction or a word or two of advice, but it was wholly of his own writing When it was done, neither of us thought it would succeed We showed it to Congreve, who, after reading it over, said "It would either take greatly, or be damned confoundly." We were all, at the first sight of it, in great uncertainty of the event, till we were much encouraged by overhearing the Duke of Argyle, who sat in the next box to us, say, "It will do—it must do! I see it in the eyes of them!" This was a good while before the first act was over, and so gave us ease soon, for the Duke had a more particular knack than any one living in discovering the taste of the public He was quite right in this, as usual, the good nature of the audience appeared stronger and stronger every act, and ended in a clamor of applause —Pope.

Measure of Things.

We measure from ourselves, as things are for our use and purpose, so we approve them. Bring a pear to the table that is rotten, we cry it down, it is naught But bring a medlar that is rot ten and 'tis a fine thing, and yet, I'll warrant you, the pear thinks as well of itself as the medlar does. We measure the excellency of other men by some excellency we conceive to be in ourselves Nash, a poet, poor enough, as poets used to be, seeing an alderman with his gold chain, upon his great horse, by way of scorn said to one of his companions "Do you see yon fellow? How goodly, how big he looks! Why, that fellow can not make a blank verse." Nay, we measure the goodness of God from ourselves, we measure His goodness, His justice, His wisdom by something we call just, good, or wise in ourself And in so doing we judge proportionably to the country fellow in the play, who said if he were a King he would live like a Lord and have peas and bacon every day, and a whip that cried "slash!"—John Selden.

DISTRICT SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Macon and Logan counties, comprising the 29th senatorial district, are requested to send delegates to a senatorial convention to be held at LINCOLN, on THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1882, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating one candidate for state senator. The number of delegates to which each county will be entitled will be as follows:

Macon county,	7
Logan county,	5

JOHN A. BROWN, Chairman.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

For State Treasurer,
GEN. JOHN C. SMITH.
Of Cook county.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction,
CHARLES T. STRATTON.
Of Jefferson county.

For Congressman—14th District,
JONATHAN H. ROWELL.
Of McLean county.

FIFTEEN YEARS.

On the first day of August, 1867—fifteen years ago to day, the REPUBLICAN was launched upon the sea of Decatur journalism. As children are more apt to celebrate their birth days than adults, so we were once in the habit of glorifying a little over the recurrence of our anniversary, but we have had so many of them that the thing has grown somewhat monotonous, and of late years the first of August has been permitted to come and go without any special observance at our hands. Suffice it to say now that while we are entirely satisfied with the growth of the rather unpromising infant that first saw the light on that hot August day fifteen years ago, we still feel like acknowledging our obligations to the kind friends whose patronage and generosity have enabled it to live and thrive for a longer period than any of its predecessors. We trust that it will always merit the same degree of success which has attended its course from the beginning, and that it may continue to be a benefit and credit to the community.

BULLDOZING in the South is not to be suffered to languish during the next campaign for the election of Congressmen. The following threatening letter was recently received by Colonel Calkins, Chairman of the Committee on elections of the House, and refers to a Republican member of Congress who is now occupying the seat of an ousted bulldozing Democrat:

Please say to ——— that he had better make his will before he comes down here. You have lied, and he is now holding what he is not entitled to. This is not his home and we don't want him, and if there is a first class funeral next month it will be his fault. He can't live here; that is settled, not even for a week. It is just as bad here as at ——— for him, the liar.

The member referred to has been a citizen of the State for over twenty years.

VERMONT loses one member of congress by the new apportionment law, and will hereafter be represented by two men in the house instead of three. None of the present representatives have been renominated, but in rotating the people of Vermont are not taking retired men. The nominees are ex United States Senator Luke P. Poland and ex Governor Stewart, both superior men. With Edmunds and Morrill in the senate, and Poland and Stewart in the house, the little Green Mountain State will exert her full share of influence in national affairs.

Beaver's Opinion.

General Beaver writes as follows to a friend on the situation in Pennsylvania: "Having offered all that is fair, I think our duty is plain, first to give our friends who represent the Independents a fair chance to accept, and if they refuse, go forward without paying any further attention to them. The campaign goes forward satisfactorily, and will, I think, terminate in such a way as ought to satisfy those who desire the good of our great party."

HON. WILLIAM REDDICK, of Ottawa, Ill., one of the recognized leaders of the Democratic party in this State, declares himself in favor of a prohibition amendment to the State constitution. Mr. Reddick, while a member of the State Senate some years ago, originated the Temperance legislation which is now a portion of the statutes.

THE temperance question is forcing itself into the polity of all nations. In Copenhagen, Denmark, rigorous restrictive measures have been adopted. The number of taverns has been reduced from 1,350 to 300; no female waiters are allowed; no liquor permitted to be sold to any person under 18 years of age, or who is intoxicated; and all drunken persons to be taken home in a close carriage at the expense of the landlord who sold him the last glass.

POLITICAL NOTES.

"A Lonesome Reformer," is what the Boston Journal calls Senator Pendleton, of Ohio, whose hobby is civil service reform.

The Columbia (Mo.) Herald (Dem.) reads Senator Voorhees out of the party for disowning the "Democratic doctrine of free trade."

A correspondent of the Charleston News says that "a military company has been organized here for campaign purposes." Armed bulldozers, no doubt.

Mr. Stephens, as the candidate for Governor of Georgia, will go into the campaign during August and September: he will visit all parts of the State, and will speak from his rolling chair.

County primaries in Speaker Keifer's district in Ohio give him 124 votes, with 83 necessary to a choice. It is believed that the name of General Kennedy will not go before the convention on Wednesday.

The Ohio Republicans will begin their campaign August 5 at Elyria. Governor Foster will make the opening speech. The nine weeks which follow will be crowded with earnest work and vigorous effort.

Colonel Thomas Ochiltree has announced himself as an independent candidate for Congress in the Seventh District of Texas. He expects to receive the votes of Republicans and Independents, and in addition enough Democratic votes to elect him.

Judge Aaron Shaw, of Olney, Ill., the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Sixteenth District, has recently been fined $25 and costs for permitting his horses and mules to run at large, to the great annoyance of his neighbors. How like an old Bourbon!

By means of an interview in the Ohio State Journal, Governor Foster sends forth the prediction that the people will be compelled to encounter a liquor dealers' rebellion. He declares that he has never known such bitter feeling on any public question. He estimates the retail profit on beverages in that State at $35,000,000 per year.

The Regular Republican Committee of Pennsylvania is sending out circulars comparing the way in which delegates to the various State conventions were elected. The claim is made that in thirty six counties the delegates to the Regular convention were elected by a popular vote, while in thirty one they were selected by county committees. On the other hand, it is charged that in only seven counties were the Independent delegates elected in popular conventions, while in fifty-one counties they were chosen by private caucuses.

JOHN A. BROOKS, president of the Missouri Prohibition Alliance, is a Democrat, and is very indignant at the "efforts" of Senator Vest and others to take from the Democrat the credit of having been the pioneers in prohibitory legislation. Among his claims are that Maine was a Democratic state when her prohibitory law was enacted in 1846, and amended in 1851; that Vermont had a Democratic governor when her law passed; and the supreme court of the United States was Democratic, with Taney at its head, when this law was first declared constitutional; that the Democratic supreme court of Missouri has so decided, and that the amendment resolution hung fire in the Kansas legislature until the wife of a Democratic member importuned her husband upon the floor to cast his vote for the resolution, Kansas thus owing her triumph to that Democratic vote. And those most actively engaged in the prohibition movement in Missouri, he says are, with scarcely an exception, Democrats.

THE Free Trade Bulletin alludes to a new silk factory that has recently been established in this country as "another pauper asylum." That is the free trade way to put it: the laborers of the United States are to be called paupers because they desire to be protected in their industry. The skilled artisans employed in our silk manufactories are making better dress goods than are made at Lyons or anywhere else in Europe to day. While they have not yet reached the standard of excellence in fancy goods, they excel in plain fabrics, and will soon drive their foreign competitors out of the market. That accounts for the dislike of the free trade organ for them. It is sustained and encouraged by foreign capital to do what it can to break down American industries, and call honest American mechanics hard names. Chicago Inter Ocean.

A LONDON correspondent states that the singular British prejudice against American beef continues unabated. It is said to be impossible to find a butcher's shop in any part of London where foreign meat is sold for what it really is. And yet the meat imported, alive and dressed, into Great Britain last year, was worth over $100,000,000. The fresh beef trade has reached very great proportion, and is constantly expanding. Its profit is said to be prodigious, the golden rule of the London butchers being to buy cheap and sell dear. Meats which they buy low enough to sell at a handsome profit for fifteen cents per pound are invariably put at 20 to 25 cents. It is impossible to tell the nationality of beef after it is cooked, and the old fogyism which rejects a prime article through spite is laughable.

DOWDALL, of the Peoria National Democrat, imagines that as the Democratic candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction he could defeat Charley Stratton. We used to think John H. Oberly a little uncharitable in so frequently referring to Dowdall as the "d—dest fool in Illinois," but Dowdall's claim that he can beat Stratton convinces us that Oberly was about right—though his language was not so pure as it might have been. Let the Democracy nominate Dowdall, by all means. —Grayville Independent.

The Delights of Excursions.

Springfield Republican.

The excursion is one of the wild delights of the summer. Probably because this is the most enervating season, the test is made to see how much locomotion and fast the human animal in mass will stand inside of twenty-four hours. The start is made at an unconscionable hour in the morning after a night of expectancy. Breakfast and all the other meals are grabbed: a great space of country is passed over at the minimum expense. Whether anything is really enjoyed or not may be doubted, but the party generally arrives home before daybreak of the next day. The occasion is usually varied by incidents of a more or less humorous character. One of our rural exchanges soberly chronicles with names and dates vicissitudes which would adorn the tale of a Danbury News man. After telling about the rowdy young men who get drunk, the man who sticks his head out of the window and loses his hat, and those who get off at a station for water and find too late that the train does not stop, there is added the melancholy loss of "Mrs. Stratton, who, while eating an orange placed her teeth in a handkerchief on her lap, and forgot that fact when she threw the contents of the handkerchief out of the window, a few moments later." Fourteen car-loads of people with experiences like these can bring back grumbling and misery enough to suffice for a long time, even if they do lose some teeth. The excursion is intense—the very esthetic extravagance of fun.

Large Wheat Crops.

Country Gentleman

Referring to a statement recently published in this paper as regards a crop of 120 bushels of wheat raised on two acres in Cayuga county many years ago, the Ontario county Times remarks:

If Hon. Wm. H. Lamport was correct in his statement at the recent farmers' picnic in this village (Canandaigua), the honor of a still larger crop belongs to our own town. Mr. Lamport stated that Moses Atwater, in 1816, raised a crop of wheat that yielded 69½ bushels per acre, and that at the fair held October 3d, 1820, Edgecomb Chappell took the first premium for the greatest quantity of good quality of wheat raised upon one acre, which was eighty bushels, 11 pounds and thirteen ounces. This is considerably ahead of the Cayuga county crop. In the same connection another statement made by Mr. Lamport possesses interest. According to his authority, at the winter meeting of the agricultural society in February, 1821, Bayse Baker, of Bloomfield, was awarded first premium for the largest quantity of potatoes raised upon one acre of land, which was 500½ bushels. These crops are largely in excess of anything our farmers are able to produce nowadays, but there is no occasion for doubting the record.

A Free Trade Argument.

Chicago Western Manufacturer.

A well known free trader of Kentucky, (whose name we are willing to mention if called for), says the Cincinnati Trade List, said to us a few months since that this (low wages) is just what he and his associates want. "The laborer in this country," he pathetically observed, "is getting to be too smart and independent. Unless he is brought down a peg, pretty soon he will rule us all. He gets too much by half. You exclaim against foreign competition, because it will reduce the price of labor. I favor it for exactly the same reason. I want to see these ignorant fellows, who know nothing except to work with their dirty hands, brought down to their proper level. We will never prosper in this country until it is done." This is really the ultimate conclusion of nearly all the advocates of free trade, though it is not often they come out in this blunt and honest fashion and express their true sentiments.

Jolly Girl of the Period.

Boston Journal.

When a young girl gets to be impatient of restraint, and anxious, first and chief of all, to have a "jolly time," she is in a position of at least possible peril. From the jolly girls in certain ranks in society the Jenny Cramers are recruited—girls who mean no harm, but who are so careless of conventionalities that they are in danger before they are aware. Our social customs allow a freedom between the sexes which is wise and healthy, but contains perilous possibilities. There is room at least for the inquiry whether what may be called the calisthenic craze, the cultivation of "mannish" sports, games, and forms of physical exercise among girls, may not have been the occasion in part for the diminished gentleness and womanliness observable in the jolly girl of the period.

Yankee Inventions Abroad.

American street cars are in use in very many cities of the globe. In London alone about two hundred are running. In Bombay, in Australia, at the Cape of Good Hope, in the West Indies, Mexico, South America and several continental cities, this convenient vehicle testifies to the Yankee faculty for finding means for ends. The cost of an ordinary street car is from $900 to $1,200; of a "bob tail" car, from $800 to $1,000, and for an open car from $500 to $800.

SENATOR HILL, now nearing his end, recently said to a friend: "I had desired to live for two reasons, chief among which was that I might have made a speech, which I had partly prepared, to the people of this whole country upon the relations between the white man and the black man. I have always been in favor of giving the negro equal and exact justice—nothing more and nothing less. My friend, we cannot have good government or stable society in this land when one party seeks to dominate the other by the use of the negro vote."

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON.

No Message from the President Yet.

Political and Other News.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—With one exception, no congress since the war has remained in session so long as the present one. The exception was the first session of the Forty-fourth congress, which lasted till late in August, 1876. Even now it is impossible to state whether there will be an adjournment in one, two or three weeks.

If the River and Harbor bill should be vetoed, members of the house commerce committee say this morning that the result might be to continue congress here indefinitely, as great efforts will be made to secure some bill which the president would approve, or devise some other means for obtaining the appropriations. River and harbor improvements will not entirely stop if no appropriations shall be made, for the appropriations in the general appropriation bills do not lapse at the end of the fiscal year, if not used, but continue a permanent appropriation.

There is now more $4,500,000 in unused appropriations, to the credit of the river and harbor fund from last year's bill. Members of the senate commerce committee have indicated that if the bill shall be vetoed, there would be no attempt to pass another one by that committee. Consequently, any efforts on the part of the house will be unavailing.

The secretary of the treasury expects that the applications for the exchange of bonds for the new three per cents, which will arrive here on Tuesday morning, will amount to a car-load. The secretary will make no further call for outstanding bonds until the time for the exchange into three per cents is closed. The reason is that until that time it cannot be determined what denominations and numbers of the present issue will be offered.

An attempt is to be made to secure an investigation into the measures resorted to by the national board of health to get congress to increase their appropriation. It is reported by the opponents of the board that false reports as to the existence of yellow fever in the south have been circulated, with a view of making votes to continue this appropriation. The national board of health has received no information relative to the outbreak of yellow fever in Mexico beyond what is contained in the press dispatches.

Legislation is not progressing in congress with such rapidity as promises final adjournment this week. The conferences are too slow in reporting.

TOPEKA, KAN., July 31.—Sufficient returns have now been received from the counties that have chosen delegates to the Republican state convention, August 9, to insure the renomination of Governor St. John. The state convention will be composed of 370 delegates, requiring 187 to nominate. St. John has already secured 196, and it is thought his vote on first ballot will exceed 220. He has carried more than two thirds of the counties, and the opposition votes are divided between Judge Thatcher, Capt. Johnson and John A. Martin, but in all probability their names will not be presented to the convention. The disposition is to renominate St. John by acclamation.

Gen. Rice, editor of the Fort Scott Monitor, who has opposed St. John, telegraphs to-day that he will heartily support the Governor.

LONDON, July 31.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade for the past week, says: "The weather was unfavorable until the close of last week. There was hardly any home grown wheat offered. What remains is 2 shillings per quarter higher than foreign. Trade in foreign was checked by the fine weather, the large supplies and reports of declining prices in America. There were some occasional concessions to buyers. Flour was dull and quiet, but comparatively steady. Oats declined because of large arrivals. The off coast trade was quiet. There were four fresh arrivals and five sales and four cargoes were withdrawn. Wheat on passage closed with a downward tendency. The sales of English wheat during the week were 10,237 quarters at 50 shillings per quarter, against 13,236 quarters at 47s 2d per quarter for the corresponding period last year.

CLINTON, Ill., July 31.—News was received here to night that Hon. Horace Holdeman, candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket from Piatt county, in the thirtieth senatorial district, had sent in his declination. The central committee will meet in Champaign county tomorrow to call a convention to nominate another candidate. Mr. Holdeman has assigned no reason as yet for his withdrawal from the race. His election was sure, as the district is 1,000 republican majority. Mr. Richards, of Champaign county, will now be the man.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Bob Ford, who killed the notorious outlaw, Jesse James, and his brother Charlie Ford, are in the city, enjoying life in spending $10,000 which they received as a reward for ridding the country of the outlaws' leader. In an interview in the wings of the Variety Theatre here, to-night, they said they would stay here about a week and then go to Cincinnati. Bob Ford says Frank James was in good health when he saw him last. He does not believe Frank will ever attempt to reorganize the gang.

Ancient Chinese Burial.

The Celestial Empire gives in a recent number an account of a Chinese burial in former times. A man of means purchased his coffin when he reached the age of forty. He then had it painted three times every year with a species of varnish, mixed with pulverized porcelain—a composition which resembled a silicate paint or enamel. The process by which the varnish was made has been lost to the Chinese. Each coating of this paint was made of some thickness, and when dried had a metallic firmness resembling enamel. Frequent coats of this, if the owner lived long, caused the coffin to assume the appearance of a sarcophagus, with a foot or more in thickness of this hard, stone-like shell. After death the veins and the cavities of the stomach were filled with quicksilver for the purpose of preserving the body. A piece of jade was then placed in each nostril and ear and in one hand, while a piece of bar-silver was placed in the other. The body thus prepared was put on a layer of mercury within the coffin; the latter was sealed and the whole committed to its last resting-place. When some of these sarcophagi were opened after the lapse of centuries the bodies were found in a wonderful state of preservation, but they crumbled to dust on exposure to the air.

ASSAYS of several hundred million dollars' worth of the native gold of California have shown an average proportion of 880 thousandths of pure metal. The gold of Australia gives an average of 960 thousandths.

HON. C. F. EMERY, of Marcia, Ill., spoken of two weeks ago, again visited our office on Monday. Shortly after his previous visit here he had the misfortune to be thrown from a buggy, near Lake Benton, narrowly escaping death. His injuries were very painful, confining him to his room for nearly two weeks. Mr. Emery has purchased several quarter sections of land near Brookings, for cultivation, and wishes to buy still more. He was obliged to return home sooner than he wished to in order to be present at the meeting of the Illinois State Board of Equalization, of which he is a member. Mrs. Emery accompanied her husband to Dakota, fortunately being on hand to care for his injuries, and both are well pleased with our beautiful country and prolific soil. Brookings Co. (Dak.) Press, July 27.

Oreana Items.

EDS. REPUBLICAN:—I noticed in your issue of July 15th that "W." says the man was badly beaten in his scheme to repair the old school house. I am happy to inform "W." or "Jas. Blow Hard" that the one he is blowing about voted against repairing the old school house. As to the charge against him not being in favor of poor men in voting, I would respectfully inform "W." or "James Blow Hard" that he tells a knowing falsehood, and I would further inform said party that the farmers are the ones that support the school in this district and when they build a new house not one cent will balking it. I am truly sorry to see the Oreana detective go to the bad, but hope he will reform before it is too late, as he is a born detective.

The stock holders of the town hall met last Saturday night at Oreana. I suppose it was for the purpose of building "W." or "James Blow Hard" a new school house. I hope it will do him some good; it looks hard that the district has to call on the stock-holders outside the district to build a new school house.

Farmers are about all done harvesting and are threshing their grain. Wheat and oats are turning out well. Geo. Shastee's wheat made 25 bushels per acre; oats about 50. Joseph Cooper, of Marcia, is doing the threshing around here. The people are pleased with his good work. JOHN.

ANOTHER MATINEE.

More Trotting and Pacing on August 4th for More Prizes.

Grand matinee of trotting and pacing for Decatur road horses at Brenneman & Downing's Park, on Friday, August 4, for four prizes:

First horse, one of Wayne Bros.' fine $60 road carts. Second horse, one genuine imported lap robe, cost, $15. Third horse, fine lap robe, $10. Fourth horse, gold-mounted track whip, $5.

Horses barred, "Magnet," "Agnes" and "Standford."

Entrance fee, 10 per cent., payable before starting in race.

The road carts made by Wayne Bros. are justly regarded by horsemen as the very best that have ever been offered to the public, and the one to be competed for is a daisy. 17 d7

A Baptist Minister's Experience.

I am a Baptist minister, and before I ever thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy; "THOMAS ECLECTIC OIL cured me." I was also troubled with a hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and "Thomas' Electric Oil cured them," and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with the Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can, until the Oil falls over into the throat, and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their catarrh. For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil. DR. E. F. CRANE,

THIS afternoon Dr. Walston was called to Macon to consult with Dr. Naftel, of that place, with reference to the condition of Mrs. George Fleming, residing one mile from Macon, who is very dangerously ill, her trouble seeming to baffle the skill of the resident physicians.

LAST evening we received a call from Mr. John Feldmier, of Millersburg, Ind., who exhibited his model of his "Three-Row Corn Planter" and check rower combined, which was patented on April 4, 1882. Mr. F. will remain in the city, and will sell shop right licenses to manufacturers on royalty.

AND now exchanges are passing around a woman swindler who has been victimizing the ladies of an adjoining town. She carries with her several pictures for which she asks a dollar, and explains that she has a lot of them at the depot, the charges on which amount to several dollars, and she wants to raise money enough to get them, and she will then deliver pictures just like the one she carries. She collects the dollars and that is the last seen of her or the pictures.

AFTER most of the newspapers have printed harrowing particulars of the death of Nelson Long, of Maroa, describing how he was dragged over a barbed wire fence and awfully lacerated while tangled in the reins of a runaway team, it appears that he fell from the wagon and was killed by being run over by the wheels, as was related in these columns on the day after the accident. The Maroa News, published within less than a mile of the scene of the dreadful accident, made no reference to the wire fence story whatever. This destroys a good argument against barbed wire.

HAPPY NIANTIC.

Big Jollification Over the Discovery of a Thick Vein of Coal.

The particulars of Niantic's big blow-out over the finding of a paying vein of excellent coal at the Niantic shaft at a depth of 365 feet, have just been received. Coal was struck Friday night last and the vein, stripped of the shale, is just five feet two inches thick. It was natural for the people there to feel jubilant, and they gave vent to their joy on the public square in front of Niantic's new bank on Saturday evening. The demonstration began at 5 o'clock and closed with a grand finale at 9 p. m. All business was suspended, and men, women and children flocked from all directions to hear the jubilee speeches. Everybody having assembled, Mr. J. P. Farris was chosen master of ceremonies, and he conducted Hon. Jacob Wilkinson to the stand as the chief orator of the historical occasion. Joab was in splendid trim, and while presenting a beautiful word picture of the future prosperity of Niantic as a leading coal and manufacturing centre, he also paid a glowing and deserved tribute to the character and indomitable energy of the late Hugh Mooney, who inaugurated the enterprise which has proven so successful. Mr. Mooney undertook to sink the shaft on his own responsibility, receiving $8000 in subscriptions from Niantic township citizens, who will be reimbursed in coal from the mine at $2 per ton. The mine belongs to the Hugh Mooney estate, and the heirs will receive the full benefits of the important discovery. Mr. Jesse Lockhart was the second speaker, and he was followed in turn by several enthusiastic citizens. Mr. Graham, the superintendent of the shaft, also made a few remarks, returning thanks on behalf of the Mooney family for the flattering demonstration.

There was plenty of liquid refreshments on the square, free for all, and to preserve order Mr. John Wacker assumed the responsible office of marshal of the day, and though he lost a part of his clothing in a little skirmish with parties who took that occasion to settle old grudges, he came out victorious amid the rapturous applause of the assembled multitude.

Among the visitors present from Decatur were Messrs. John McEvoy and Michael McGinty.

The new hotel was thrown open by John Allison and free entertainment offered all present.

The work of sinking the "sump" or cistern, which will be 18 feet deep, will be commenced at once and as soon as possible proper machinery will be secured, the tower built, and coal for the trade will be taken out.

Dr. Sibley in Jail.

Information received just as we go to press to day gives us the welcome intelligence that Dr. B. F. Sibley, one of Decatur's oldest physicians, is truly in jail at Brooklyn, Conn., but he is there as the guest of his brother, Mr. Preston Sibley, who is the high sheriff of Wyndham county, in the Nutmeg State. In his card of Sunday the Doctor simply stated, "I am here in jail," and the announcement last evening occasioned no little astonishment and much lively interest among the friends of the absent physician in all quarters of the city, many of whom called at his office and at the REPUBLICAN sanctum to learn what there was in the report. We are exceedingly glad that the genial Doctor is all O. K. and happy in his temporary quarters, and also that we can to-day relieve the suspense of many interested persons as to his safety, as we have grown decidedly weary of answering so many anxious inquries. Doctor Sibley's mother, whom he had not seen for nearly 35 years, resides at Brooklyn, as do also several of his sisters. He will return home in a few days, accompanied by his wife, who went east with him.

A Former Decatur Merchant Dead.

A recent issue of the Lawrence (Kas.) Journal contains a long obituary of Mr. S. B. Pierson, who was a Decatur business man for several years, being connected in the retail dry goods trade on East Main street with S. D. Ludden, about 1859. The deceased was a resident of Lawrence for about eight years and was prominently identified with the business interests of that place. Mr. Pierson was a consistent member of the Methodist church. He was born at LeRoy, N. Y., March 29, 1829, and received a good education. At an early age he familiarized himself with the milling business, and was doing a prosperous business in that line at Lawrence when he died. He died of dropsy of the lungs on July 14th. During his sojourn here he was an active member of the First M. E. church.

A Hard Bat.

Marshal Hewes wrote to Fred. Kennett, the chief of the St. Louis police force, to learn something about Monroe Kelley, the burly negro who was shot by Officer Early. The reply was that "Monroe Kelley visits St. Louis occasionally, is a gambler, and is regarded as a questionable character by this department. His partner, Ike Reynolds, is now serving a term in the Missouri penitentiary for burglary and larceny." Kelley still lingers in the county jail. It is very painful for him to sit down. A charge of burglary and larceny will be preferred against him.

Convention Postponed.

The Long Creek township Sabbath School Convention, which was to have been held at Myer's Grove, near Casner Station, on Sunday, July 30th, has been postponed until Friday, Aug. 11th, when the programme, as arranged, will be observed at the grove named. The heavy rain of Sunday last was the cause of the postponement. Let there be a large turn out of all Sabbath school workers and all others interested on the 11th.

A Bloodthirsty Tramp.

A serious cutting affray occurred at Macon yesterday. Joseph Johnson, a tramping carpenter, got into an altercation with James Maloney while both were at supper, and Johnson slashed Maloney in the neck with a pocket-knike, inflicting a painful wound and nearly severing the jugular vein. Johnson was brought to Decatur this morning and lodged in the county jail in default of $200 bail.

THE OTHER SIDE.

What a Lincoln Correspondent Says About that Cruel Slander.

The other day a Decatur morning paper came out with over a column of sensational and scandalous article about a Methodist minister who resides at Lincoln. Now comes a correspondent who, in writing from Lincoln to the Bloomington Pantagraph, says: "The article which appeared in the State Register reflecting upon one of our ministers, is certainly one of the most designedly malicious and slanderous things that has appeared in a Central Illinois paper for many a day. It was undoubtedly invented by a contemptible puppet who resides here, and at times exercises the functions of a city official, who was, no doubt, opposed in his aspirations for office last spring, by the reverend gentleman whom he thus slanders. The facts in the case, from the beginning, are misrepresented. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's sister—her home. Two or three intimate friends, aside from the family with whom the lady resided, were present. Eight of the best physicians of the city have examined the child, and they say it is less than a six-months old child, and their statements fully exonerate the parents from the slanderous imputations. No people stand higher in the community and are more universally esteemed than Rev. Hubbert and his estimable lady. All intelligent, honorable citizens of Lincoln brand these imputatations, as they go well merit."

AFTER ANOTHER MAN.

Abner D. Bond and a Detective in Springfield on Monday.

Springfield Post, July 31.

Mr. A. D. Bond, the father of the unfortunate young lady whose name has become familiar to every household in the country, was in Springfield to-day accompanied by a detective who is at work on the Bond case. They are on the track of a man by the name of Elliott Hobbs, who enlisted in the regular army at the recruiting office in this city and was taken by Sergeant Ricketts to Columbus with eleven other recruits two weeks ago last Friday. Mr. Bond stated to the Sergeant that they had pretty conclusive evidence that Hobbs, who was a resident of Christian county at the time the outrage was committed, is one of the guilty parties. Sergeant Ricketts gave them what information they desired and they will take steps to have the man brought back, though this may cause them some trouble. Mr. Bond stated to a reporter of the Post this morning that Miss Bond is no better, but that she grows gradually weaker every hour and is not able to lift her head from her pillow. The date of holding the preliminary examination has been changed by the attorneys without consulting the wishes of Mr. Bond, and if no other change takes place it will be held on Tuesday, August 8th. By that time they expect to have the man Hobbs and still another, against whom the finger of suspicion is pointed, in durance.

The Pool Tourney.

The fifteen ball pool tournament at the George A. Keller parlor, in the New Deming block, last evening, attracted a large crowd of interested spectators, despite the heat. The exhibition of 20 games began at 8 o'clock, and ended at 10:30. It resulted in Henkle winning, first prize, $3; Prescott, second prize, $2; and Wheelock, third prize, $1. The following is the total number of balls pocketed by the contestants: Frank Henkle, 75; Prescott, 62; Herb Wheelock, 61; Chas. Jones, 53; and Will Townend, 49. Henkle got 4 goose eggs; Jones 4; Townend 4; Prescott 3, and Wheelock 2. Mr. Keller contemplates arranging a billiard tournament in which four or five of the best players in the city will contest for cash prizes.

Competition is the Life of Trade.

But "running down" a competitor and making false representations concerning him cannot win. All of which the latest competitor to Joe Wissen's Oil Wagon should remember. Wissen's enterprise is one which the people wished and made successful. Danforth's Genuine Fluid is the property of all dealers who will buy it. There is no patent on it. But for Wissen's enterprise, people might yet be compelled to carry their oil from town as they did before. From and after this date Wissen will sell as follows: Genuine Danforth Petroleum Fluid, single gallon 20 cents; 5 gallons, 90 cents; headlight Coal Oil, 20 cents single gallon; 5 gallons, 90 cents; Gasoline, 5 gallons for 90 cents.

A Birthday Party

The forty-seventh birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. F. Busher, was made the occasion last evening of a social gathering and party at the Busher mansion on Macon street. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. A. Gehrmann, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. M. Goldburg, Mr. and Mrs. Eckert, Misses Hattie Howell, Ida Wheeler, Annie and Mollie Laux, Sophie Kuny, Lillian Irwin, Annie Kohl; also Misses Maud Capps, Annie Houck, Annie Pumpelly, and S. J. Reinheimer, W. H. Clear, C. M. Beidler and H. J. Bekemyer, of Mt. Pulaski; and Messrs. Frank Barber, J. Marks, Charles Musser, Walter Towling and Edward Kuny. The party was a jolly affair all around, there being plenty of toothsome refreshments, music and dancing.

DON'T fail to witness the game of base ball on Thursday afternoon between the Decatur Reds and the Union Nine—the latter club being composed of well-known bookkeepers of the city. The receipts will be turned over to the Decatur cornet band, the members of which will be at the park in full uniform and enliven the occasion with spirited music. There will also be an exciting foot race for $5, distance 100 yards.

Springfield Post, July 31st: Mr. A. D. Bond, accompanied by a detective, was in the city during the day. Mr. A. D. Bond registered at the St. Nicholas to-day as A. Dobson, Chicago.

George S. Yates, the well-known colored orator and ventriloquist, will deliver the address at Peoria to-day, on the occasion of the observance of the anniversary of the West Indies emancipation, at that place.

Mr. A. W. Oliver and family, of Wichita, Kansas, who have been east on a summer trip for the past month, are in the city, and will remain a few days visiting friends before leaving for their home in "the Happy Valley."

A. F. Smith, editor of the Lincoln Sentinel, publishes a card denying the cruel slander on Rev. J. H. Hubbert and wife of that city. He states that the story is "a most cruel and villainous slander, sent to the Springfield Register by an individual who is regarded with supreme contempt by the moral people of Lincoln."

Elder Pinkerton, the newly installed pastor of the Christian Church, paid us a pleasant call last evening. The Elder is a gentleman of fine personal address, a close student and an entertaining conversationalist. He is doing a good work for his charge by awakening a renewed interest in religious matters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bartholomew will depart for New York to-night and will be absent until about September 18t. They will visit Pittsburg, Pa., Wheeling, West Va., Harrisburg, Pa., Philadelphia, Washington City, Baltimore and other points before reaching New York. Mr. B. goes east on a purchasing trip. He will keep posted on Decatur happenings by reading the REPUBLICAN daily.

James C. Lake is now at Yankton, the capital of Dakota, awaiting the arrival of the Macon county clerk's certificate that J. M. Lowry is a duly qualified justice of the peace. He failed to take the certificate with him when he left, and he struck a snag when the Yankton officials found that the necessary paper was not in the bundle present. The certificate was forwarded last night, and will arrive at Yankton to-morrow. Mr. Lake will bring back that horse thief, and also the horse he rode away.

Major and Mrs. C. F. Emery arrived at their home in Maroa yesterday from their memorable trip through Minnesota and to points in Dakota. The Major visited Decatur to-day and gave the REPUBLICAN a call. He has not yet fully recovered from the effects of the accident he experienced while at Lake Benton, Minnesota, several weeks ago. He was thrown to the ground violently out of a buggy in which he was riding with a friend, and received injuries which laid him up for many days. His neck is yet a little stiff and both of his arms still ache, otherwise he is in good health.

DECATUR ILL JULY 31 1882

It's the Way You Say It.

There is a man in this city who wants killing. He has got a way of paralyzing people that will bring him into trouble. The man we speak of is sharper than tacks, and well posted on all topics of interest, and can converse and entertain those he may be thrown in contact with as well as anybody. He can put on a vacant expression and seem to be the most ignorant person in the world. He was at a party recently, and was introduced to a young lady from an interior city who was a guest, and the first thing he said to her after the compliments of the season, was

"Sad about Greeley, isn't it?"

The young lady did not exactly comprehend what he was driving at, and said beg pardon, etc., when he remarked to her that Greeley was dead, and he put on a sorrowful expression and added that Greeley was a great man. The girl, who had known of the decease of the great editor for many years, was astonished at the man and looked at him as though she thought he was far behind the times, or fooling her, but he put on such a vacant, æsthetic, lah de dah look that she thought he must be crazy, and she excused herself and went into the refreshment room. He was telling a friend about his interesting conversation with the girl, when he remarked "You can't tell what anybody knows until you find out. Now, how did I know she had heard of Greeley's death? She lives out in the country, and might not have heard of it." The girl was seen later in the evening, asking another girl what in the world started that young man to speak of Horace Greeley's death as a matter of news. The other girl said she didn't know. She saw him at a picnic last summer, and while they was opening canned pigs feet and chicken, he talked continually about Stewart's remains, and she didn't know what to make of him. She said she couldn't eat a mouthful. He says he finds that in conversation at parties that it gives a better tone to it to bring in some historic subject, instead of continually talking about the weather, or something of that nature. He was at a church sociable not long ago and created a good deal of interest by bringing up the subject of the prize fight between Sullivan and Paddy Ryan, but he said they didn't seem to catch on to it at first, though before he got through he said he could have sold pools on the fight. Some men are born paralyzers. We have in mind now a young board of trade man who was out to a club house last fall shooting ducks. He is a dry joker, and his face never betrays him, always maintaining a serious expression when he wants it to. He was introduced to a local preacher, who, when he heard that the gentleman was from Milwaukee, said

"You must be acquainted with our Bishop there."

"O, yes," said the man, as though he wished he had as many dollars as he knew the Bishop, and feeling in his coat pocket among some letters, "I have got a permit from the Bishop to shoot ducks on Sunday, but I suppose I shall have to divide with him." And he looked as solemn as a statue and looked through his pockets as though anxious to find the 'permit' to show to the local preacher, so that there need not be any misunderstanding. The minister sighed and went away as though his heart was burdened.—Peck's Sun.

CHEAP GOODS are the result of judicious purchases from first hands, and the largest sales with the least expense. That we have attained this end is a pretty well established fact. And though we call attention in our advertisements to special articles, there are no departments and no articles in departments, from the smallest to the largest, that will not bear the same scrutiny. We hold that merchants are as much bound to adhere to the truth in their advertisements as farmers or mechanics in their business transactions and that misrepresentations are resorted to where there is no merit, and for the purpose of deceiving the plain unsuspecting class, who can least afford the deception, which robs them of their dues. Goods constantly change in styles and prices, so that the most experienced merchants find it difficult to determine values, and the seeming artlessness which invests the ordinary buyer, or the "intelligent public" with a knowledge of merchandise, that nine merchants in ten do not possess, may be very flattering indeed, but this observation is only made to lull persons into security in order to practice a still greater deception. There is no law to punish dealers for representing their purchases as coming direct from importers and manufacturers, when the facts are against them. Nor for giving special reasons for marking down goods, after six weeks untiring labor, TWO HUNDRED PER CENT. BELOW COST. But the dealer who indulges in such misrepresentations on paper will do so over the counter, consequently to show courtesy where it does not belong, or to AFFECT a regard for the integrity of all competitors might seem very magnanimous were it not for these palpable evidences to the contrary. We invite the most critical investigation to what we say and do in DRY GOODS and CARPETS, also to every other article of merchandise composing our stock.

Nervousness in America.

Men prematurely bald, old, "unable to carry their own liquor," and anxious beyond their face years are getting conspicuously common in America. The slow, sententious Yankee of the stage is becoming rare in the cities, and the cool individual who offers the suspicious stranger a cigar light stuck in the muzzle of a revolver, is happily confined to Deadwood Creek or Gough Eye Gulch. The women are more lovely than ever. Their faces are the faces of angels chiseled in marble, but the pallor is unhealthy, and the liveliness of the American girl is, to a great extent, incipient disease. It is, like their beauty, part of that nervousness which is afflicting their race. Their minds are untroubled by the cares of housekeeping, for most of them live in hotels or boarding houses. In Europe they contract in marriages. But they soon fade, and while the English matron, and even her sister of Canada, who leads much the same kind of life is still in her prime, the once beautiful American is often a lean, hysterical haunter of health resorts. The future is not a pleasant prospect. As men of leisure depart from the busy multitude, it is difficult to see what they are to do with their money. There is a limit to the number of greenbacks which a people can spend on a house, and even a modest fortune is cumbersome to carry about in diamonds and watch chains. They can, of course, always go to Paris, but a Tuileries American, as this hybrid Gaul used to be called in Napoleonic days, ceases to be an American, while if he stays at home, it is hard to see how the rich average republican is to spend his money in any other way than that which has produced, and is increasing the nervousness of his race. Competitive examinations, which will, in time, add their worry to the endless voting and electing of the present time are calculated to intensify the trouble. But for long the evil will not be much noticed. The country will be fertilized by a continuous stream of fresh-faced, simple lived emigrants from "used up Europe." These will mingle with the humbler natives, and since the true born Yankee of New England, and the "fust family" Americans of the South are notorious for the fewness of their children, will keep up the population of the United States. Meantime, the learned folks, without the fear of patriotic papers before their eyes, will affirm that the European is not naturalized in the new world. At best he is a nervous edition of the gallant from which he sprang, and were it not for the new blood that is recruiting his jaded life, would dwindle away and become extinct.—London World

New Jersey Grape Wine

The success of Mr Speer, the great wine man of New Jersey, has arisen from the strict purity and valuable properties of his wines for invalids and feeble persons, and his reputation extends over the whole Union as being a reliable producer of pure wines. His Port Grape Wine is now being ordered by families in Dresden, London and Paris for its superior medicinal virtues, owing probably to the iron contained in the brown shale rock in the soil on which the vines grow.
